About the Tax Industry

The U.S. tax code is 67,204 pages long. That's about as long as 112 copies of James Joyce's Ulysses. There are purportedly 1,638 different tax forms, and the IRS estimates that a taxpayer needs 37 to 80 hours of time to prepare his or her taxes each year, depending on the complexity of each individual's situation (Scott Simon, www.npr.org). Perhaps that is why there are currently about one million professional tax preparers in the U.S. (ww.irs.gov).

About Proactive Tax Planning – Why it is Not Enough to Just File in April

Most professional tax preparers serve as "number crunchers" for individuals and business owners who feel overwhelmed by the 67,204 pages of U.S. tax code. Yet, by solely focusing on compliance methods, many tax professionals miss opportunities to save their clients money. In fact, the United States Government Accountability Office says that taxpayers overpay $1 billion per year due to missed tax credit opportunities. To save clients from overpaying, proactive tax planners focus on year-round strategic planning methods and engage their clients in the tax process. By capitalizing on the wealth of tax-saving resources in the U.S. tax code, proactive tax planners help their clients pay less tax in April.
